- d) The consideration for such supply shall be increased by an amount calculated as follows:
A x R

Where:
A is the consideration payable for the supply; and R is the applicable rate of the GST prevailing at the time of supply (hereinafter referred to as the “GST Amount”)
- e) The recipient shall pay the GST Amount at the same time and in the same manner as the consideration for the supply provided under this Agreement.
- f) The tax invoice, which shall be in the form of a full or simplified tax invoice as per the prevailing GST guide at the material time, to be issued after the imposition of GST and the receipt or any other documents to be issued after the payment for the supply by the supplier to the recipient shall identify the amount of GST payable.
- g) If a party must reimburse the other party for a cost or expenses, the amount to be reimbursed shall be calculated net of any GST input tax credits that the party seeking reimbursement is entitled to in respect of the cost or expense incurred.

In order to further protect SESB's interest, the Team also has agreed that it is pertinent to incorporate a saving clause on other taxes or levies which might be imposed by law in future in all SESB's supply contract. However, please take note that this Other Taxes Clause shall only be applicable when SESB is the party who is supplying the goods or services, not otherwise. This Other Taxes Clause shall not be incorporated when SESB is the acquiring party. Kindly find below the agreed Other Taxes Clause which to be incorporated only in SESB' supply contracts.

2) OTHER TAXES AND LEVIES

Except as provided for otherwise, the Custome / Consumer shall be responsible for all present and future taxes, duties, levies, and other similar charges including any related interest and penalties, howsoever designated (hereinafter referred to as “Other Taxes”), arising out or in connection with the supply of any kind imposed by law.
